INTRODUCTION

Joseph Simbar is a tech serial entrepreneur with over 16 years of experience in the enterprise technology space. He earned his bachelor's degree in Corporate Finance from San Francisco State University and founded his first tech company shortly after graduation — which he successfully sold at the age of 23. Since then, he has built various technology products ranging from CRM, ERP, Logistics Tech, to Edutech solutions.

Currently, Joseph serves as the CEO and Co-Founder of Mimin, where he leads the development of intelligent, AI-powered conversational journeys that help businesses transform how they engage with customers. The company is backed by multiple investors, including one of Indonesia's largest conglomerate groups.
