

YukYuk!

Defining Interactive AI Entertainment in Southeast Asia

YukYuk! is the first interactive AI-native short drama platform designed specifically for the Southeast Asian creator economy. Combining "choose-your-own-adventure" mechanics with advanced generative AI, YukYuk! empowers creators to build high-fidelity narrative experiences with unprecedented speed and accessibility.

Executive Summary

Indonesia currently represents the world's largest market for microdrama downloads. YukYuk! captures this demand by providing a native platform where content is not just consumed, but influenced by the audience. In just five months of operation, the platform achieved 12,000 users and over 30 million content views with minimal paid marketing.

Profile

Venandya Camelia is the Founder and CEO of YukYuk, an Indonesian AI creation and entertainment company. A 2026 Forbes 30 Under 30 Asia semifinalist in Social Media, Marketing & Advertising, she leads product vision, partnerships, creator growth, and go-to-market strategy. Camelia has spoken at Alibaba Indonesia about generative AI for creators and SMEs, and represented Indonesia's AI startup ecosystem in a meeting with Vice President Gibran Rakabuming Raka.

Founder Journey

Before YukYuk, Camelia co-founded StorySage.io in 2023, an early AI movie-production platform. The experience shaped her conviction that AI will transform how stories are created and distributed. In 2025, she launched YukYuk to make advanced AI creation more accessible in Indonesia and build toward AI-native entertainment.

Current Focus

Camelia is guiding YukYuk's evolution from a broad generative-AI platform into an AI creation and entertainment ecosystem. YukYuk currently supports image, video, music, and avatar creation, while its upcoming watching experience will introduce original, phone-first AI microdramas, beginning with Cafe Surabaya.
